

Captain Carl Mahler

Captain Carl Mahler, a native of Long Island, NY, USA and graduate of New York Maritime college with degrees in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering. Carl served as Master on Tankers in the Jones Act trade before becoming a Harbor Pilot in 2012 in Port Everglades, Florida. Carl is also the Head of sales for Baltic Workboats US a subsidiary of Baltic Workboats, makers of state of the art wave piercing pilot vessels.

Safety And Reliability Advancements In The Modern Pilot Vessel

Discussion on the advancements in Pilot boat design which lead to safer and more reliable vessels. Learn about the various design elements which enhance crew safety during vessel operations and in man overboard situations. Also, a discussion on the technological advancements modern boat builders are using to bring automation, remote monitoring and process control to their vessels. Taking cues from the automotive industry builders are making the modern pilot vessel easier to operate, safer and can minimize downtime of these vessels which are oftentimes a critical piece of the infrastructure in every port.